BACK TO SCHOOL

Make that list

and check it twice

Andrea Yampolsky with son Harry, 7, and daughter Jessica, 9.

Summer seemed to fly by faster than ever this year, leaving memories of lousy weather — something we couldn't control. Now is the time to think about that back to school checklist and the shopping that follows — something we can control.

"If you get organized in advance by looking through what you already have in your house you can save a lot of time and money," says Andrea Yampolsky, a mother of two elementary school-aged children. "In our case, my kids came home at the end of the last school year with so many things they didn't use still labelled and in perfect condition."

Her kids, Jessica Marshall, 9 and her brother Harry, 7, both attend Akiva School in Westmount, and when they receive the list of items needed, Yampolsky will simply fill in what's missing. The Côte St. Luc resident says because she already has so much in stock, this is the first year she will not purchase the school's kit of pre-packaged items.

Yampolsky, a personal shopper by profession, always has her eyes open for the best deals. "This year is easier since everyone is discounting."
